"Hello Folks"

VERNE MARSHALL said that the farmers down on the Evans farm in Des Moines county staged the resistance to the testing just to call out the troops in order to embarrass the Governor—I wonder in the calling for the State university investigation by Verne WHO HE MEANT TO EMBARRASS—it surely was costly and we wonder if it didn't cost as much as the soldiers in the testing cost.

MONEY—where is it going—looks like many are awakening to a situation that requires thought—in Chicago there are $39,000,000 in Postal Savings deposits—it has jumped by leaps and bounds since 1926, as shown by this list.

Year	Amount
December 1926	$3,551,356
December 1927	3,424,726
March 1928	4,067,087
June 1928	4,052,673
September 1928	4,802,551
December 1928	5,205,493
March 1929	5,499,923
June 1929	5,784,620
September 1929	6,189,664
December 1929	6,581,755
March 1930	6,564,483
June 1930	6,173,235
September 1930	6,147,733
December 1930	6,123,393
March 1931	6,281,144
June 1931	6,283,547
September 1931	26,981,000
October 1931	33,000,000

The banks can now borrow this money upon arranging for suitable security with the government. That will help the banks and make the situation safer all around for public and bankers alike—the depositors in Postal Savings are protected by the government and the bank depositors by more safety on account of guarantees from banks to government.

LONDON LANCET—a monthly Journal for the medical profession of Europe carries a full page article entitled "Another year of Radium"—they severely criticize the use and say many bad things about it—gradually, little by little, my preachings for the past two years are taking effect—that is, more courage is being displayed by leading doctors who are more severe in their criticisms of it for curing cancer—we have many thousands of good honest doctors—most of them are independent and do not become a follower of Dr. Morris Fishbein, the high mogul of the A. M. A.

GENERAL BUTLER—you all know him—one of the few generals in the U. S. army that has courage enough to say his name is his own—he has them guessing—he is now out of the marines and they are talking about Senator and everything—in connection with him—the Governor of Pennsylvania, says he is a great leader—he has great courage I know that—we will hear from him again—he is going to stay around Pennsylvania for a while—but LOOK OUT.

AUTOS—they have surely covered vast territory—one out of every 54 persons in the world now owns an auto—maybe that's the cause of some of the bad times—that all people cannot pay their debts—every little thing helps—whether for good or bad.

BLOOD—it seems that there will always be some people craving for it—in a recent bull fight—in Spain—(they are not fully civilized yet)—6 bulls and 25 horses were killed—and the crowd of blood-thirsty persons cheered—next they will be drinking warm blood as I used to see some fellows do when I was a kid.

IF ALL THE gamblers were raked over the coals and given the publicity that Bishop Cannon received and went through—there would be no depression in America today.

Baker Wins First Skirmish With Medical Association

LIBEL ACTION IS UNDER WAY IN U. S. COURT

$500,000 Suit Brought By Publisher Against Medical Group

The American Medical association, defendant in the $500,000 libel suit of Norman Baker, publisher of the Midwest Free Press, failed in its attempt to obtain a more specific statement from the plaintiff in federal court at Des Moines Saturday, when Judge Charles Dewey over-ruled a motion to that effect from the attorneys for the association.

Attorneys C. F. Hanley and J. F. Devitt of Muscatine, representing Mr. Baker at the hearing, contended that the motion should have been filed before the medical association filed the answer to Mr. Baker's original petition which asked $500,000 for libel in connection with an article appearing in the medical society journal. The motion sought more particulars to show in what way the article was libelous.

The suit against medical association was originally filed at Muscatine, but was transferred to the federal court at Davenport, where it is scheduled to open on Feb. 9.

Representing the medical association at the hearing in Des Moines today were Attorneys Burke and Harold of Chicago and Charles Dutcher of Iowa City.

The demand for the coupons has doubled each day since the plan was inaugurated last Monday by the Free Press. Merchants who had become more or less discouraged because of the apathetic condition of business, now see the business skies of Muscatine clearing so far as Muscatine county is concerned.

DISARM MOVE IS A FAILURE

League of Nations Unable to Reach An Agreement

GENEVA, (INS)—League of Nations' efforts to induce the whole world to enter an agreement immediately to halt the inter-national armament race for one year as a great gesture of peace had failed Saturday night.

When the lights were dimmed shortly before midnight in the League Palace along the shores of Lake Geneva and the last official made a hurried departure from the Secretariat's offices only sixteen of the fifty-four nations to which the league addressed its appeal had deposited their favorable replies. The fifty-four powers addressed had been asked to state their attitude before Nov. 1. Of these sixteen only three—the United States, Soviet Russia and Japan—are major powers, though Germany, France and Italy have announced their intention of adhering to such an agreement if enough nations can be brought in to make it practicable.

TIGER MURDERESS HAD MAN ACCOMPLICE, SAID

Mother of Two Young Children Is Beaten To Death

KIRKWOOD, Mo.—(INS)—Spurred on by the discovery of a blood-stained silk stocking, authorities of this St. Louis suburb, tonight continued their tireless investigation into the brutal murder of Mrs. Reba Anna Maddux, 35-year-old mother of two young children, whose battered body, with the throat slashed three times, was found in a thick weed on the outskirts of Kirkwood last Saturday.

The finding of the blood-covered stocking, police said, was made in the Maddux home. The hostess, according to police, was found between the mattress and springs of a bed in the room of Miss Clara Fish, 22, domestic servant and boarder in the Maddux home. Miss Fish and Walter E. Maddux, husband of the murdered woman, are held by police.

Mrs. Maddux' body was discovered in the thick weeds by a negro passerby. Near the body police found a razor blade and an empty glass can. The razor blade was found in the weeds near the body.

At an inquest held here today, a coroner's jury returned a verdict of "homicide at the hands of parties unknown." Both Maddux and Miss Fish testified at the inquest. Maddux, on the witness stand, declared that although his wife was a tubercular and that she had threatened to kill herself, he believed she did not take her own life. Maddux added he knew of no motive why anyone should have murdered her.

Farmhand at Harlan Takes Own Life Afterward

HARLAN, Ia.—(INS)—Turbulent because of marital difficulties, Charles E. Hayes, 28, a farm hand, Saturday killed his wife, Louise, 26, and their child, Charles, Jr., 16 months, and then committed suicide.

He shot Mrs. Hayes while she was lying in bed with her mother, Mrs. Tony Anderson. The wife's father was also in the house when the killings and suicide occurred. The tragedy was on a farm about seven miles from here.

At an inquest it was determined that the Hayes had been having disputes much of the time since their marriage three years ago.

Bitter Diplomatic Battle Looms Between France and Germany on Reparations Debt

By ARNOLD BOSCH-FLEUROT
PARIS.—(INS)—The French government was mobilizing its experts Saturday night for what may develop into a bitter diplomatic battle with Germany on the reparations and debt issue next week with each side seeking to line up world opinion in its behalf.

Premier Pierre Laval, returning from his visit to President Hoover, is due to arrive at Havre aboard the Ile De France Monday morning.

He will hurry to Paris to confer with his cabinet on the coming diplomatic exchanges.

Laval, it was learned, is determined to resist what his ministry believes is an exceptionally shrewd German maneuver to wreck the Young plan. This revolves around the $2,000,000,000 in frozen short-term credits in Germany which are held to a large degree responsible for unstable conditions in world financial centers.

It has leaked out Germany will propose that as a first step toward restoration of normal business conditions she arrange to unfreeze these obligations. The Reich is willing to support a movement to repay these private debts, if Germany is guaranteed release from her reparations obligations during the period required for fulfillment of such a policy.

Declare Man Helped Woman in Double Slaying

PHOENIX, Ariz.—(INS)—Mrs. Ruth Judd, 27, the "trunk murderess" went into solitary confinement in the county jail here Saturday with authorities pressing her for a confession that she had an accomplice in the murder of Hedwig Samuelsen, invalid school teacher and Agnes Lerol, nurse.

Announcement was made by County Attorney Lloyd J. Andrews that he expected to make another arrest in the case Monday. He would not reveal the connection this suspect had with the case.

"Mrs. Judd was physically incapable of packing her victims' bodies in the trunk, let alone of dividing Miss Samuelsen's body in several parts, some of them missing," it was declared at the sheriff's office.

Mystery Car Enters Case

The mysterious black automobile which a witness said appeared near Mrs. Judd's apartment the night of the murder, again entered the picture today.

Investigators said this was the same car that was used by a man and a woman in burning a mattress on the desert.

The mattress, partly burned when the man and woman tried to destroy it, was in the possession of detectives who had it examined by a chemist.

Official close to the county attorney's office said the trunk in which the bodies were shipped to Los Angeles had yielded clues to indicate a man had helped pack them. This evidence was stored in papers, purportedly Ruth Judd's confessions, and the bullet which Los Angeles surgeons extracted from the wounded left hand of the "Tigress." This evidence was stored in a vault in the county attorney's office.

BRITISH FLYERS ON LONG TRIPS

Society Girl Is Off for Africa on New Speed Flight

LONDON.—(INS)—A pair of carpet slippers, two alarm clocks, two revolvers, supply of American chewing gum and a diaphanous evening gown were speeding southward through the air Saturday night, two young British flyers headed toward their goals on separate attempts to break existing speed records.

The aviators were Peggy Salamman, 19-year-old society debutante, trying to break the record between England and Cape Town, South Africa, and C. A. Butler, amateur aviator, who hopes to reach Australia in a midge monoplane quicker than anyone has ever done before.

Both flights started from Lympne aerodrome, Miss Salamman preceding her rival by a few hours. She landed safely at Athens tonight and will take off tomorrow for Cairo.

Miss Salamman, who said she was making the flight because she was tired of society life, carried an amazing "cargo." The chewing gum, she insisted was "to plug up any possible leaks in my petrol tank," while the evening gown was designed to aid her in "making whoopee" after she arrives at her South African destination.

ANTI-HOOVER SENTIMENT IS GROWING FAST

Prominent Republican Leaders Ask Solon To Enter Race

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
WASHINGTON.—(INS)—President Hoover's bright prospects of a peaceful renomination were seriously threatened Saturday night by the possibility that Senator William E. Borah, chairman of the powerful senate foreign relations committee, may enter a contest with him for the Republican presidential nomination next year.

This anti-Hoover threat developed from the fact that a group of influential Republicans from the east and middle-west have offered to "underwrite" Borah's campaign if he agrees to contest the president's renomination. The senator was reported to have taken the offer under consideration.

Borah remains silent.

When questioned about it, Borah would not discuss the subject. He neither affirmed nor denied having received the proffer of financial support for such a campaign.

This development came on the heels of an announcement from Senator Hiram W. Johnson (R.) of California that he was variously interpreted as a threat to run against the president in the California presidential primaries. After protesting against the administration's action in co-operating with the league of nations in the Manchurian crisis, Johnson said: "The only remedy left the people against their betrayers is the ballot box."

Both Borah and Johnson are undoubtedly realizing that only a national revolt in the Republican ranks could defeat Mr. Hoover.

Borah and Johnson are feeling they can defeat Mr. Hoover in the California contest, if supported by the other. Johnson would be the logical candidate, since he has never lost an election in his home state. While the two senators are not friendly in a personal sense, it is known Borah would support Johnson in a contest against Mr. Hoover. As a result, political acts of both will be watched with the extreme interest during the coming session of congress, where one or the other must formally announce such a candidacy.

G. O. P. Insurgents Back Borah

The Republican insurgents meanwhile stand ready to aid both senators. A number of the Progressives—Senator George W. Norris, of Nebraska, Senator Gerald P. Nye, of North Dakota, Senator Robert La Follette, Jr., of Wisconsin, and Gov. Charles D. Smith, of Pennsylvania—are reported willing to run as "favorite son" candidates in their home states and in adjoining states, solely to turn their congressional votes over to the one of their ranks who has the best chance of defeating Mr. Hoover.

The whole situation is chaotic for the present. The insurgents though believe a definite campaign against the president will be inaugurated during the December session of congress. They feel the "issue will crystallize during the election battle in the senate over the world court this winter and as an aftermath to the administration's action in participating in the League of Nations' effort to settle the Manchurian crisis.

Mark Thornburg's Statement On Test Benefits Questioned

Doubt Expressed That Farmers Profit by Bovine Tests

During the past month articles quoting Mark G. Thornburg, of the state department of agriculture, to the effect that T. B. testing has saved Iowa farmers more than $1,500,000 have been published in various newspapers.

Coming to the News Press office are many letters of condemnation from farmers, claiming that the tuberculin tests are ruining their herds. O. F. Johnson, 2129 Madison avenue, Burlington, Ia., reported that his herd consisted of 14 cattle and ten of these were found to be reactors. This means the destruction of Mr. Johnson's herd and many other farmers have complained of a similar situation.

The great loss to the farmers, of which they complain, is the fact that their milk supply dwindles down 75 per cent following the test. One farmer states he secured 50 gallons of milk every day until after the test, when this fell to 15 gallons. This means a big daily loss to the farmer.

Thornburg's statement is the opinion of many that Mr. Thornburg is merely guessing when he says that the testing has brought the farmer more than $1,500,000 in extra milk sales alone. This statement is considered as preposterous.

The question is asked of how the milk sales can increase when the farmer's cattle are taken from him, merely because there may or may not be a tubercular lesion of the flesh of the animal.

Stringy, sickening milk, of which the farmers complain, results in loss of milk sales, according to letters to the Free Press from the farmers.

Herds Are Decreased
Mr. Thornburg talks of the prevention of the spread of the disease, and declares this is worth much to the farmer. The tuberculin tests do not show a decrease in tuberculosis, but does show a large decrease in the number of cows, and this in turn decreases the demands for milk, which helps much to keep the price low.

If five million cows are slaughtered, and each consumed a bushel of corn per week, that means five million bushels of corn each week for which there is no demand. With the horse gone on account of the steel horse, which means millions of bushels of corn in less demand weekly, and with the number of cows decreased, soon there will be no more use for corn except for pigs, chickens and food for humans, the latter of which consumes a very small portion of the supply.

In addition to all this, expense for testing of cattle for tuberculosis, amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars, which is deducted from the state treasury, comes the announcement that the state of Iowa has issued "anticipatory warrants," for one million dollars. This is money that the state treasury, which now makes a total of $3,500,000 outstanding, all of which was made possible by the Loring-Brookhart law.

With the state in debt, this added cost of testing, plus the added cost of soldiers to enforce the law, plus the large expense of the foolish investigation of the Iowa state university as agitated by Verne Marshall of the Cedar Rapids Gazette, the taxpayers of the state find themselves in the hole and will have to dig out.

Agitators Should Pay
Some way should be found to make the agitators of this ruthless spending of the state's funds foot part of the bill. This would serve as a protection so that these things which are so strongly protested against, will first be investigated. Governor Turner is receiving much censure for his actions in this ruthless spending without even attempting to call a halt, but at all times listening to medical organizations and ambitious newspaper editors.

"Cattle War" Charges Against Stockton Man Dismissed

R. P. Broders, Stockton farmer, arrested several weeks ago on a charge of resisting state tuberculin cattle tests, was formally dismissed Saturday in Justice J. C. Coster's court, upon motion of H. E. Wilson, county attorney.

Arraigned before Justice Coster some time ago, Broders' bond money was returned to him, and the farmer declared he was under the impression the case had been dismissed then. However, the information remained with Justice Coster until Saturday.

Quandt Family Has Entire Section of New Phone Books

New telephone books will be distributed in the city sometime during the coming week. It was announced Saturday by W. A. Matthews, manager of the local exchange.

One family, that of C. W. Quandt has the entire "Q" section of the books. Besides C. W. Quandt the names of Roy Quandt and Elmer Quandt also appear.

The new books list two families by the name of Carpenter, four Axtels and six Bolds. There are also listed seven Bunters, two Baers, nine Crows, two Havas and two families by the name of Fox.

The city should not want for fresh bakery goods for seven bakers are listed, although Muscatine is fortunate in having only one Bill. Ministers might find cause for alarm in the fact that only one Christian is listed but five pilgrims are included in the names appearing in the new books.

Although the city is divided into four wards, only three wards appear in the telephone books.

There are six Hills and five Dales; three Lakes, one Fish and eight Fishers; three Drakes and three Fowlers. There are also four Days and six Holidays; two Maidens and one Girls.

When seven-year-old James Aitcroft fell on the live rail of an electric line at Aintree, England, two men tore wooden palings from a fence, pushed them under the boy, and threw him to safety.

CEDAR BRIDGE REPAIRS ASKED

Rebuilding of Tice Structure to Be Started Soon

The Tice bridge over the Cedar river, constructed in 1897, will be rebuilt as soon as possible, it was decided by the Muscatine county board of supervisors at a meeting Friday afternoon. County Engineer F. P. G. Halfpenny was instructed to prepare plans immediately for the work, in order that the contract may be let in the earliest possible time.

The cost of repairing the bridge, in the opinion of the county engineer, will be about $3,000. A report was submitted by Halfpenny showing that the cylinder pier farthest to the west had sunk, and the downstream cylinder had sunk 2 1/2 inches while the upstream cylinder had sunk but 1 1/2 inches.

During the winter of 1930, piling was driven all around the pier and the enclosed area was filled with rock. Since that time, the downstream cylinder has sunk seven inches more and the upstream cylinder one and one quarter inches. The entire pier will be protected from deep water by riprapping the bank.

Farmers' Version of T. B. Test Not Told By Verne Marshall

Fight Against Iowa College Expense Causes Wonder

The public has quite frequently read in the columns of the Cedar Rapids Gazette, articles against the farmers who have resisted the tuberculin testing of their cattle. Verne Marshall is the editor and prints the Verne Marshall column daily.

He has appealed to the states attorneys to schedule out some law on the statute books to cause the arrests of those that resisted the testing. He has printed articles from Mark Thornburg in favor of the testing, but does not give the poor farmer a chance to get "his story" in the paper. The funny thing about it all is that he complains about the expense of this testing by soldiers, to the state and tax payers.

Proved Filmy Case
Many who have read his columns have observed the filmy case he presented to the governor and state assembly about investigating the state university at Iowa City. The public, however, has never been advised by Marshall why he "got mad" at the officials of the state university, but rumors have been spread to the effect that perhaps Verne or some of his friends have connections in an engraving business, with a plant that makes engravings, and that possibly the state university did not give him enough business.

While the public does not know just what the difficulty is, it is regarded in many circles that it is high time that one like Verne Marshall, with a newspaper, should be stopped from stirring up any imaginary stunts to cause an investigation of any one until he has the "goods" on them.

The recent investigation of the state university cost the state of Iowa and the taxpayers many, many thousands of dollars, without amounting to anything so far as the taxpayers are concerned. It was thought that Verne Marshall had some "real dope" when he started out, because he wasted so many columns in his paper telling the people about it. Many wonder now whether it was not all done for petty spite and a desire for the sensational.

Farmers Want Justice
Anyway, the state of Iowa is out many thousands of dollars on account of Verne Marshall and his paper, and it is wondered now what right he has to complain because the farmers resisted an unfair law and demand justice. One thing is certain, the farmers can prove that they are fighting for justice, but whether the Cedar Rapids Gazette can prove that it was really fighting for justice when they started the investigation of Iowa City officials, which turned out to be one of the biggest "frosts" that ever hit Iowa is a question.

Verne Marshall forgets too easily, and it is the opinion of many that his subscribers ought to tell him about it, so he would not be so quick to criticize farmers for saving state expense when he did not hesitate to do so.

Meanwhile the "circus" atmosphere of the grim tragedy lingered in Phoenix.

Fair Board Worried

W. M. Wright, chairman of the State Fair, which opens November 9, said he hoped Mrs. Judd's public hearings would not conflict with the fair attendance.

This semi-serious expression, Wright said, was prompted by the enormous crowd that showed its way into the court house plaza when Mrs. Judd arrived yesterday from Los Angeles.

Inside the county jail today there was no "circus" atmosphere. Her "play-boy" friends having deserted her, Mrs. Judd had only one companion, a matron who succeeded in keeping her in a cell apart from the common crowd of women quarters. The cell is just big for Mrs. Judd to stand along-side the narrow jail bunk that lets down from the wall.

Before she was ordered released, Mrs. Judd, with a sweet and wistful smile, bade good-bye to undersheriff Biscailus and Chief Deputy Dewar, who accompanied her from Los Angeles.

"I feel helpless and hopeless," she said.

FARMERS URGED TO KEEP LAND District Leader of Women's Work Is Local Speaker

The one hope of saving the independent farmers is the retaining of small farms, Mrs. Ellsworth Richardson of Williamsburg, district committee woman of the Iowa Farm Bureau, told women of the Muscatine County Farm Bureau in an address at the court house Friday afternoon.

The meeting was for women leaders of the county organization with every township represented, and it proved one of the best organization contact meetings held during the year. The townships they represented at the conference by township chairman, public relations and co-operators.

Fewer Iowa Farmers

Pointing out the importance of agriculture, Mrs. Richardson, declared that the 6,250,000 farm families in the United States constitute one-fourth of the nation's population. The Iowa farm population, however, is decreasing each year in the point of farm people, she said.

She stated that while people living on the farms constitute one-fourth of the national population, they receive but one-tenth of the nation's income and at the same time pay more than half of the nation's direct taxes. She also discussed the social inequalities and the inequalities of education, health, social and recreation for the farm people in comparison with the city's people.

Organization Needed

The speaker compared the city schools with the one-room rural schools and declared that the rural schools are in a desperate condition. She stated that it costs $1,200 to send a pupil through high school, and records show that only 20 per cent of those who go to high school go back to the farm. She advanced the point that for this reason, other fields that benefit from their education should be required to pay more for school upkeep.

Stating that farm welfare depends upon the immediate farm family, Mrs. Richardson attacked the idea that organization makes the individual farmer lose his individuality. The danger of losing their individuality lies in their being reduced to tenants and the small farms are lost, she said. Russia was cited as the perfect example of the loss of individuality.

Influence Is Shown

Mrs. Richardson declared that farm people agree on the needs of organization, but that many are confused as to what organization meets their needs. She declared that every farm body has its good influence, and she opposed the tearing down of any organization. The main object, she said, is to get the organization that best answers the needs of the home.

MANY VISITORS AT NIGHT CLUB

Duncan's Night Club
Opened to Public
Saturday Night

Hundreds of Muscatine residents flocked to "Duncan's Night club" Saturday night when the city's newest place of amusement was opened to the public. So great was the crowd that difficulty was encountered in finding accommodations for all the people.

Music for dancing was furnished by Harold "Smiles" Heinle and his orchestra and large numbers of people took advantage of the music and the spacious hard maple dance floor, the largest in this vicinity. This orchestra will furnish the music on four nights each week, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. For music on other nights an "Orchestra" one of the largest in this district, has been installed.

"Duncan's Night club" is one of the most modern and best equipped in the city. Seventeen booths and two party booths line the dance floor, and all kinds of soft drinks and sandwiches are served. The place makes a specialty, however, of chicken sandwiches.

Earl Duncan, proprietor, announces the place will be operated as a night club and will cater especially to the older persons and the better class residents of the city.

SUITS INVOLVE TWO ACCIDENTS

Indiana Man Claims
$5,000 as Result
Of Boy's Death

One automobile accident in which a boy was killed and another in which a young woman received injuries, are the basis of damage actions filed Saturday in the district court.

Edward Hagerman, salesman and the Hawkeye Pearl Button Co., are made defendants in a $5,000 suit filed by Lucy Setser of near Greenfork, Ind., whose 13-year-old son, Alonzo, was fatally injured, it is claimed, when struck by a car driven by Hagerman on March 3, 1931. The petition states that the accident occurred near the Setser farm home as the boy and two other children alighted from a school bus. Hagerman was driving his car at a speed of 60 miles an hour, and in a careless manner, Joseph R. Morgan and R. S. Jackson are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Two court actions by Cash Pace, her husband, were filed against Samuel E. Phillips and Junior Phillips as result of a collision on Mulberry avenue, Oct. 3, 1931, in which Cash Pace's car crashed. The plaintiff alleges that the Phillips car was being driven at an excessive speed, and on the wrong side of the street.

In the suit brought by Pace on behalf of his wife, the sum of $642 is asked, of which amount $125 is asked for damages to the automobile and $500 for injuries suffered by Mrs. Pace. In the second suit, brought by Pace in behalf of his daughter, Florence, damages are asked in the amount of $1,518, with $1,500 for injuries suffered and $18 for her care. The injured girl was riding with her mother at the time of the accident.

CHAPTER XXV RALPH OR JIMMY?

"I BROKE off to puff at his pipe a moment. And then: 'Julie, you went through a most trying experience a little while ago. Memoryless, not knowing who you were, anything about yourself—I can imagine nothing more distressing, more harrowing. From heaven alone knows what horrors, you were saved by a young actor, a hooper, who treated you with complete courtesy. Had you met Farrell casually—say he had been performing at some house where he had been introduced to you—you would have been able to measure him according to your usual standards, appraise him from the standpoint, not of what he was, but of what you were.

"But a chivalrous action puts us upon our mettle. In twelve hours, young Farrell progressed further into intimacy with you than any other man has ever done. That admission into intimacy boded you certain things. It boded you to overlook crudities that might have annoyed you in—let us say—Ralph. Julie, it may be that I understand you even better than you understand yourself. You are an imaginative girl, high-strung, generous, impulsive. You were on the verge of becoming engaged to Ralph, a young man of whom I highly approved. And if nothing untoward had come into your life I would have refrained from meddling; but Farrell, quite extraordinarily, did come into your life.

"But I accepted Ralph after that," said Julie.

"One really romantic experience in your life—that was all," smiled Treherne. "How long would it linger in your mind, in your heart? Would a day come when you would begin to wonder if you had done well to let that experience end where it began? Do you know why I sent Farrell a check?"

Julie looked bewildered. "I don't follow you," she said.

"If he had accepted the check you would have forgotten him in a day. But, when he returned the check to me, I knew that it was in the young man's mind to meet you again, and I am never one, my child, to postpone the inevitable. I deliberately put doubts into your mind, because I thought it better that you should feel them now than later.

"You see, Julie, I want your happiness above everything in the world. I knew, because of the romantic quality about your meeting with him, that Farrell would never be out of your life until you knew definitely that he was in it. Now, then, is he out of your life?"

"I don't know," said Julie. "Daddy, why can't I know? Am I—nice because I let him kiss me, because I kissed him?"

"But nice women—can't want to kiss two men, can they?"

"They wouldn't want to continue kissing two men," said her father. "But to be undecided—that is natural. And to come to a decision sometimes requires time. And Julie, isn't it better to bring your doubts to a focus now instead of taking the chance that later on, after you'd married Ralph, doubt might come to you?"

"But you wouldn't like me to marry a dancer," said Julie.

"Julie," he told her, "because you're bewildered, uncertain, doesn't mean that you can't make your own choice. And be sure, my child, when you make your choice, your father will uphold you."

"It seems so disloyal to Ralph," she moaned.

"But after all," he pointed out, "if we are true to ourselves, we reach the highest possible point in ethical procedure. If we are disloyal to ourselves, we necessarily fall below that point, don't we? To marry Curran, when perhaps you loved Farrell, would be disloyalty to Curran, wouldn't it?"

"Daddy, I feel less ashamed," she said.

"You have nothing to be ashamed of," he assured her. "You are quite right to hesitate until all the evidence is in."

"But how will I know when the evidence is in?" she asked.

"Only you can answer that question," he said.

"But how will I know when the evidence is in?" she asked.

"Only you can answer that question," he said.

Abruptly he kissed her good night, leaving her more in a turmoil than ever.

As the door closed behind her father's broad shoulders, Julie thought rather bitterly that it is always easy for another person to counsel us in our difficulties. She was discovering—as sooner or later every one must discover—that there comes a time when every human soul is alone and lonely—a time when the pitiful communication of speech but barely makes us aware of each other. We live alone and must fight our battles by ourselves. Even those who love us can faintly comprehend us at best, as we can faintly comprehend them. We can be succored by financial aid; material comforts may be administered to us; but in the battles against grief and desolation we must wage war alone.

Trying desperately to dismiss torment from her soul, Julie knew that she would find peace only when she arrived at a decision, and that decision she could not foresee.

Ralph or Jimmy? She would be racked, torn, miserable, until she knew which man she really loved.

Ralph pictured her as sweet, and fine, as loyal. To permit him to retain that picture in his mind was to deceive him. He loved her; he had paid her the high compliment of asking her to marry him. He assumed, naturally, that there was nothing in her life to bar their marriage; he would assume, equally naturally that nothing could arise between proposal and marriage to bar their marriage.

On an impulse ascribable as much to a desire to be released from his exorable thoughts as to her honesty, she picked up the telephone and asked for Ralph's number. The clock on the telephone table told her that it was almost 4 in the morning. He would be asleep.

Exasperation creeping through the drowsiness of his voice, Ralph finally answered. The sleepiness of his voice gave way to the eddies of alarm as he recognized Julie. "For heaven's sake, Julie—what's wrong?"

Minnesota Eleven Wins
Over Wisconsin, 14 to 0Badgers Put Up Game
Battle But Fall
Before Gophers

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., (INS)—Minnesota triumphed over a desperately fighting Wisconsin team, 14 to 0, Saturday afternoon. Minnesota did all its scoring in the first half, a touchdown and a goal in each period. After that Minnesota was fighting to defend itself as Wisconsin passed down the field to goal line only to fall or be intercepted as they went over the line for the touchdown which refused to come.

Minnesota's first score came from a brilliant piece of work by Manders who reversed right end, got away from Wisconsin tacklers caught off guard and raced 34 yards for a touchdown. He also kicked the goal.

The second score was also spectacular. Munn had started during the entire game was largely responsible for it. A Wisconsin kick was blocked and Manders nailed the ball on the Badger 34 yard line. Three short gains followed. Then Uhl tossed to Robinson who snapped a lateral pass to Munn who shook off three tacklers and got away for a 26 yard dash and the touchdown. Manders kicked the goal. That was all the scoring. Play by play:

First Quarter
Manders kicked off to Bratton who dropped on his 34 yard line. Three crashes by Wisconsin at the line were short and Schneller punted to Somers who was downed on his 20 yard line. A penalty set the ball back to the Minnesota 5 yard line. Munn kicked from behind the goal line. McGuire let the ball get away from him and Gay recovered on the 40 yard line. Somers got eight yards at left end and Manders in a reverse around right end ran 52 yards for a touchdown and kicked the goal. Score: Minnesota 7; Wisconsin 0.

Uhl took the kickoff on his 30 yard line. After three tries with little gain, Munn smashed through tackle for a first down on his 44 yard mark. Two more plays failed to get distance and Munn kicked to Linton at the 26 yard line.

Schneller got two but Munn threw Linton for a 5 yard loss. McGuire kicked to Somers. Manders fumbled and Stour recovered on the Badger 45 yard line. Munn nabbed a Wisconsin pass and finished the half on the Cardinal 45 yard line. Three tries netted only nine yards and Munn kicked outside at the Wisconsin 15 yard line.

The Badgers had to kick and Somers took the ball on his 44 yard mark. Uhl had made 4 and Manders 2 as the quarter ended. Score: Minnesota 7; Wisconsin 0.

Second Quarter
Minnesota had the ball in mid-field, third down and 4 to go. Munn got five and a first down on a fake punt. The Gophers were set back five for offside and Munn tossed for a 10 yard loss. Uhl then got 3 on another fake. Somers kicked to Linton on his 18 yard line. Wisconsin couldn't get anywhere and Kabat's kick was blocked. Manders nailed the ball on the Badger 35 yard line. Three short gains and Uhl tossed to Robinson who threw a lateral to Munn. Munn threw off two tacklers and ran 25 yards for the touchdown. Manders kicked the goal. Score: Minnesota 14; Wisconsin 0.

Kabat's kickoff was downed on the 45 yard line by Uhl. Wisconsin stopped two rushes and Munn kicked out at the 20 yard line. After Linton made 9 on a tackle cutback, Minnesota held and Kabat kicked to midfield. Manders and McDougall sided by an offside penalty made first down on the 36 yard line. McDougall made a first down in two thrusts. Manders hit center for four.

McDougall and Munn smashed through for first down on the 13 yard line. Goldenburgh stopped the OWNBY STADIUM, DALLAS, Tex., (INS)—Before a stadium filled with wild supporters of both teams, the Southern Methodist university Mustangs playing on their home field avenged their defeat of last year and trounced Texas university Longhorns 9 to 7 in a colorful game before 35,000 fans Saturday.

Keeping the ball in the enemy territory for the greater part of the game, the Mustangs found their power in the beginning of the second quarter, and after a long pass, Mason to Koons, were able to score. Nelly converted.

The Longhorn combination of Roy to Burr to Ekins tied the score after Blanton converted for the visitors. Dropping back of his goal line in the fourth quarter, Fagins attempted to punt, but it was blocked by Ekins and was kicked covered behind the Texas goal line for a safety making the final score, Texas 7; S. FONSECA BUSY ON
REORGANIZATION
OF CHICAGO SOXNew Manager Called Off His Vacation
For Duty

By HAROLD HEROUX
(INS) SPORTS WRITER

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., (INS)—Twenty-four hours after his return to his San Rafael home for a five-week vacation, Lew Fonseca, new manager of the Chicago White Sox, Saturday was summoned back to Chicago to reorganize the club in an effort to win the American league pennant next year.

Fonseca's orders came from Louis Comiskey, only son of Charles Comiskey, the "Old Roman of Baseball," who died this week.

"There are several trades that we are now working on," said Fonseca. "The White Sox will have a greatly improved club next season, I'm sure."

Purse String Opened
"The purse strings have been opened, and I have been told that there is no limit. Before I left Chicago I was informed 'Lew, if the Sox need new players, go get them. Get anybody you want, if money and players can obtain them.'"

Indicating that a few present Chicago stars might be traded, Fonseca stated that deals were pending with at least two American league clubs.

"We need a third baseman, an outfielder and another pitcher," he said. "Sullivan, the Notre Dame star, is an excellent prospect at third base but he won't join the club until after he finishes school next May. Meanwhile I must land another player for the job."

Needs Another Pitcher
"My pitching staff is the best part of the club. But I intend to get another ace to assist my staff. I don't think night baseball is so hot," he said.

"I'd hate to size up the minor league prospects under the light because there is such a vast difference in lighting at day and at night. However, a player who hits well in the night time is also going to be a good stickler in the sunlight."

Interested in Freitas
Fonseca indicated that he was interested in Tony Freitas, diminutive southpaw star of the Sacramento team. Brooklyn is also reported after Freitas.

On the day of the $100,000 and $75,000 prizes for the untied minor league players is passed," Fonseca said.

Fonseca had planned to remain with his wife and children here until December 1. He recently purchased a home in an exclusive district of San Rafael, 18 miles north of San Francisco.

NEW YORK, (INS)—Carrying on in keeping with the deathbed wish of their late trainer, young Jimmy Rowe, who died in Baltimore recently, the stake horses of Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree stables are sweeping everything before them.

Saturday at Latonia, Marshall Lilly, assistant trainer, saddled St. Bridesaux for the Latonia championship stakes carrying $25,000 in added money and the big bay colt came rolling home to beat Rocky News and Dixie King. It was the first horse saddled by the young trainer in his capacity as assistant to Chief Willie Brennan.

Sweeping into command in going to the half-mile ground, St. Bridesaux held away to the finish of the mile and three quarters grind. He was first home by six lengths. The time was 3:01 2-5.

Friday at Laurel, Willie Brennan saddled his first winner for Greentree when Robin Egg beat Fortunate Youth and Pennate Home in a spring feature of six furlongs.

At almost the same time the inventory of the estate of Byron Barron Johnson, former president of the American League, was filed showing a value of $900,000. The bulk of Johnson's estate goes to his widow, Mrs. Sarah H. Johnson. It consisted mainly of stocks and bonds.

WILDCATS DEFEAT
ILLINOIS U. GRID
ELEVEN BY 32-6Northwestern Victory
Not as Big as Fans
Had Expected

BYCHE STADIUM, EVANSTON, Ill., (INS)—Northwestern's mighty Wildcats clawed an inexperienced Illinois team to victory here Saturday and when the smoke of battle cleared the Illini lay humbled in a 32 to 6 defeat.

Northwestern's triumph was not as overwhelming as fans anticipated, for everyone had agreed that Illinois would be utterly annihilated by the co-holders of the Big Ten championship. Instead, Coach Bob Zuppke's collection of sophomores held their adversaries scoreless in two quarters and managed to put two touchdowns on their own account.

Led by left halfback Berry, the Illini unleashed a furious attack that netted them their six points on a forward pass. Berry, who alone like a solitary star in the deep night of the Illinois campaign, completed three splendid passes. The third one was snared by Frink who galloped across the goal line.

This, however, was Illinois' sole bid for victory throughout the contest. With Coach Dick Hanley's power-house lads of the backfield functioning perfectly, the Wildcats crushed the Illini beneath a 25 to 0 lead before the first quarter ended. Play by play:

First Quarter
Berry of Illinois kicked off to Moore who returned the ball to his own 22-yard line. Olson passed to Renner for a gain of 12 yards. After a two-down advance through the line Renner skirted Illinois' left wing for a dash of 65 yards to a touchdown. Score: Northwestern 6; Illinois 0.

Illinois took the ball shortly after the kickoff, but was unable to gain, and the oval reverted to the Wildcats. A double pass, Olson to Fend to Moore and Olson's left, through center brought the ball to Illinois' 17-yard line for a first down. Olson passed to Fend for seven yards. Olson took the ball twice through the line for Northwestern's second touchdown. Olson failed to convert. Score: Northwestern 12; Illinois 0.

A few minutes later the Wildcats rolled down the field for a third touchdown. After Olson drilled through the center of the line for a 13-yard advance, Potter took the oval across. Olson failed to convert. Score: Northwestern 19; Illinois 0.

On the very next play Potter caught Berry's kickoff on the Wildcats' 10-yard marker and raced 90 yards for another touchdown. Marv's attempted place kick failed. Score: Northwestern 25; Illinois 0.

Olson's quick punt was downed on the Illinois 3-yard line as the period ended. Score: Northwestern 25; Illinois 0.

Second Quarter
Berry's punt to Fossler landed the pigskin on Illinois' 40-yard line. From that vantage Olson tried to picked it up and romped over the Yale line.

Yale countered with a touchdown in the third when Barres took a pass from Todd this a rather hopeless looking handicap but those Dartmouth fellows never stopped trying.

MOLINE, Ill., (Special)—Boxing enthusiasts of Iowa and Illinois will be given an opportunity to see Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion now on a comeback trail, in action here Nov. 13 in the Moline fieldhouse.

Dempsey is booked to fight George Neron, Greek heavyweight, and Pete Wistort, who a year ago lost a close decision to Tuffy Griffiths in Chicago. Each bout is scheduled for two rounds but besides these four rounds which will feature the Manassa Mauler, there is an excellent supporting card which is expected to fill all of the 5,500 available seats in the large auditorium.

The headline bout supporting Dempsey will find Young Terry of Davenport and Barney Ross of Chicago doing battle. These two lightweights have fought twice already. Last winter they met for the first time in Chicago and battled to a thrilling 10-round draw. Later they were rematched and Barney got the decision. Terry is anxious to even things up and the Irish fighter while Ross is even more eager to mark up another victory over the scrappy Davenport.

Dempsey's appearance in Moline is being sponsored by the Elks club, which will use a percentage of the gate receipts for its crippled children fund, which has been created to care for orphans and purchase necessities for them.

J. Hennehan, boxing promoter of Davenport, is assisting the Elks in arranging the card.

Notre Dame did all its scoring in the first half. Carnegie braced and fought back all the last half despite the fact that Notre Dame put in an entire fresh team.

Leaky, a Chicago lad, starred in the second quarter, smashed his way along for another touchdown and then wound up by taking a pass from Eken for the third one. He was about all the ball game in the second quarter.

MULTNOMAH STADIUM, Portland, Ore., (INS)—Aided by the break of the game and the stellar passing of George Sanders, halfback, Washington State college smashed their way to a 7 to 6 last year victory over Oregon State here Saturday afternoon.

Oregon State fought every inch of the way and came within two yards of blasting the Cougars' hopes after chasing over a touchdown five minutes after the Cougars scored. Their hopes for victory ended, however, when Rampani's place kick from the fifteen yard line went wide after Little and Herndon had carried the pigskin to the two yard line.

The Cougars scored on Sanders' 34 yard pass to Dahlen who clinched the ball away from two Oregon State blockers and raced the remaining 12 yards for the touchdown. Dahlen converted for the point that won the game.

Michigan Tramples on Princeton Eleven, 21-0

Tigers Are Outclassed By Snappy Wolverine Grid Eleven

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—Hardly had the Princeton football team been routed by a smooth-running gridiron squad from Michigan Saturday by the score of 21 to 0.

Michigan went around end from the eighty yard mark for a score and close to the end of the game Hudson sprinted eight yards over the goal line.

Craig punted from behind his own goal line to Newman on the 50-yard line.

Hewitt hit the line for a first down. After a forward pass had failed Newman and Fay were in position for a field goal. But Fay took the ball from a kneeling position and tore around right end, surprising the Princeton defense to score a touchdown. Newman placed the extra point. MINNESOTA TIES NORTHWESTERN IN BIG TEN RACE

Wildcats and Gophers Keep Records Clean With Victories

CHICAGO, (INS)—Northwestern and Minnesota are leading the Big Ten title race with clean records following victories Saturday afternoon over Illinois and Wisconsin, respectively.

The Minnesota-Wisconsin contest, most important of the day, went to the Gophers by a 14 to 0 margin on their home field. Previously, the Badgers had been undefeated in the conference and were regarded as championship material because of their win over the strong Purdue eleven.

Minnesota's two touchdowns came in the first half, and for the remainder of the game the Gophers fought to break up the desperate passing attack launched by the visitors.

Illinois stood up bravely against Northwestern at Evanston and parried the unexpected in securing one touchdown. The final score was 32 to 6. Coach Hanley's powerful backfield was functioning in almost perfect form.

The title hopes of Indiana went glimmering at Bloomington when Ohio State rolled up 13 points to the Hoosiers' 6. The Bucks got their second touchdown when Crayne intercepted a pass on his own 25-yard line and ran the length of the field.

Coach A. A. Stagg's Maroons, fighting desperately on the Chicago midway, succeeded in holding Purdue to 14 to 6. The Boilermakers grasped the victory with a march down the field for the first touchdown and a 53-yard run by Purvis for the second score.

At Iowa City, the University of Iowa's handicapped eleven won its first game this year against George Washington. The Hawkeyes scored in the second quarter, and the final figure was 7 to 0.

Michigan upheld midwestern laurels in the east by defeating Princeton, 21 to 0.

GRINNELL BEATS CARLETON, 19-13

Pioneers Are Getting Prepared to Battle Conference Foes

GRINNELL, Ia.—(INS)—Grinnell college football players today began preparation for their Missouri Valley conference battles after concluding the Pioneer 1911 conference schedule Friday night with a 19 to 13 victory over Carleton college of Northfield, Minn.

Washington, Creighton and Drake are the three teams left on the Grinnell schedule and with a record of four victories against one defeat in their five non-conference games this year the pioneers had a good chance to pull up for their last game with Drake university on Nov. 21 ready to fight it out with the Bulldogs for the conference championship.

Friday night's game was in Carleton's favor most of the way but the pioneers did enough running and passing in one quarter to make up for the Carleton work in the other three periods.

Led by Hank Thomas, shifty quarterback, the Grinnell eleven scored three touchdowns and one extra point in the second quarter. A 67 yard run by Thomas, a pass by Thomas to Graffund and a short line plunge across the goal line after McKee recovered a Carleton fumble accounted for the three Grinnell touchdowns.

Carleton scored first in the first quarter when Nordy went over the line on a plunge and Remington's right end broke through the Carleton line in the middle of the third period. Carleton scored its last touchdown when Broberg crashed over from the five yard line.

The final period was taken up with Carleton's passing attack which threatened the pioneers twice but failed to result in a score.

Fairfield Trojans Pile Up 46 to 0 Win Over Kinnamen

Sons of Troy Score Seven Touchdowns To Win Easily

FAIRFIELD, Ia.—(Special)—Piling up a total of 430 yards from scrimmage and marking up 17 first downs, largely through the great work of Captain Dick Crayne and W. Dabner in the backfield and a powerful forward wall, the Fairfield high school griders had little difficulty in winning their sixth consecutive victory over the Kinnamen Saturday night, 46 to 0.

Coach L. A. Glueck of the locals used his second and third stringers the entire last half with the exception of Dabner and Crayne in the backfield and even though the Kinnamen were out and out the Trojans kept their goal line uncrossed through four more quarters although the visitors did threaten twice during the engagement.

Nugent Recovers Fumble
The first threat came late in the first quarter when Minder sent a long punt sailing from deep in his own territory to Dabner, Fairfield safety man. Dabner touched the ball but it got away from him and after a mad dive at the ball by players on both teams it was discovered that Leo Nugent had intercepted the pass on his own 18-yard line. Line plays and passes gained nothing and the Muskies lost the ball on downs.

The second and final Muscatine threat for a score was when Lutz intercepted Hanahaw's pass on the 50-yard line and raced straight down the sidelines with four minutes following closely to give him interference. However, he cut in at the 20-yard line and was immediately downed by pursuing tacklers.

The locals recovered the first touchdown in the first two minutes of play when a drive led by Crayne and Dabner was terminated when Champ, quarterback, went through center on a fake play from the 6-yard line.

Fairfield Blocks Punt
Fairfield scored two more points on a safety a few minutes later. Bob Webster's punt was blocked near the goal line by Walker on Musky 25-yard line. Crayne went around end to the 5-yard line but on the next play Dabner fumbled and L. E. recovered the ball on the 10-yard line. Weber dropped back to punt again but Delp broke through to block it and it rolled into the end zone for a safety. The quarter ended shortly with no more scoring.

In the second quarter the Trojans marched to two more touchdowns. The first came when Hanahaw intercepted a pass on his 11-yard line and from here Crayne proceeded to carry it over in two plays. The second six-point play of the quarter came when Dabner broke through the first two lines of the Kinnamen in first down and his 40-yard line, reversed his field and raced down the field behind two blockers for Fairfield's third touchdown of the half. All tries for the extra point were blocked making the score 20 to 0.

Crayne Dashes 70 Yards
The Sons of Troy rolled up four touchdowns in the final two periods and in each half Crayne counted for the first when he dove over center on a fake after runs from 10 to 20 yards had carried the ball to the Musky 2-yard line.

The game was again interrupted again and the ball was pushed back to Illinois' 46-yard line as the quarter ended, with Foster Shearing a short gain off right tackle.

Score: Northwestern 25; Illinois, 6.

Fourth Quarter
Augustus rushed in to replace the three forward passes in a row. Foster clasped the second one to land with ball on Illinois' 23-yard stripe. The third pass incomplete, Illinois took the ball, but was unable to gain. Berry punted to his own 40-yard line where the Wildcats launched a campaign culminating in another touchdown. From the 41-yard line Augustus heaved the ball to Jindrich who sprinted across the field for the fourth touchdown. Engelbrecht placed-kicked. Score: Northwestern, 32; Illinois, 6.

O'Mara intercepted Berry's pass, but the ball went back to Illinois. Derry's pass was again intercepted in Snively, Cook and Berry advanced ball on straight football to 20-yard line where Berry punted to Sullivan who was hauled down on his own 40-yard stripe. Sullivan swept around left end for a four-yard gain and Augustus completed a pass to Sullivan as the game ended.

Final score: Northwestern 32; Illinois 6.

CHICAGO U. DROPS CLOSE GRID GAME TO BOILERMAKERS

Purdue Downs Maroon Stalwarts in Tilt By 14-6 Score

STAGG FIELD, CHICAGO—(INS)—Amos Alonzo Stagg's boys finally gave football's "Grand Old Man" a new feather to wear in his feather-loaded hat Saturday.

Rising above themselves to vindicate their venerable master, the Maroons of the University of Chicago battled an admittedly superior Purdue eleven to a standstill here Saturday afternoon, only to fall into a noble defeat by the close margin of 14 to 6.

Beaten and humiliated in every previous game of the current season, Stagg's boys uncorked a heavy, up-to-the-minute offensive that gave them a 6 to 0 lead at the end of the first half and a tight defense that held the Boilermakers scoreless in every period, but the third.

An inspired Chicago team, relying on straight football, drove through the Purdue line in the second quarter until it advanced the ball to the Boilermakers' five-yard line, guided by the smart generalship of quarterback Wallace. There the Maroon line opened a hole at right tackle and Sahlin sidled through for Chicago's touchdown.

The Maroon lead, however, was short-lived. Early in the second half Purdue battered away now a weary Maroon line with Purvis and Horstman totting the ball to the three-yard line. Horstman gained two and eased under a Maroon wing man arm for the first Purdue touchdown. The second touchdown was the result of a spectacular 53-yard run by Purvis.

Munn punted to Linfor on the Minnesota 45 yard mark. Wisconsin got nowhere in three tries and Kabat kicked to the Gopher 25 yard line. Munn immediately returned the punt. The quarter ended as Schiller lost 4 yards on a double reverse. Score: Minnesota 14; Wisconsin 0.

McGoofey's First Reader

By H. L. PHILLIPS

Who is this?
This is Phineas.
Who is Phineas?
Phineas is a district attorney in a typical American metropolis.
What is Phineas doing?
Phineas is telephoning.
Whom is he telephoning?
He is telephoning the news-reel people, the movie picture agencies, the newspaper photographers and 33 press associations.
About what?
About a big murder case.
What about the big murder case?
The crime has just been discovered and Phineas is about to begin his investigation for the people.
Can't he begin an investigation without the news-reel people, the moving picture men, the newspaper photographers and all the reporters?

He can, but it is no longer considered a good form.
After the photographers and reporters arrive will he begin his investigation speedily?
Fairly so, but first there are a few other things he will have to arrange.
What are they?
He will have to arrange to have the courthouse wired for sound, the accounts changed to suit the talking picture men and the inquiry conducted on days most convenient for the ballyhoo men.
Why?
It's an old American custom.

THE STORY OF JEPHTHA

1.—This is the story of Jephtha.
2.—As a child Jephtha was a little abnormal. He was three years old before he could say "Daddy" clearly and he was five before he knew what it meant.
3.—Nothing seemed to register with him. He had a vacant stare and a completed inability to grasp things.
4.—His parents put him in the hands of private tutors, but they couldn't do much for him. He fell asleep in classrooms and at the age of 11 was still having difficulty spelling words like "cat" and "rat."

5.—The boys called him "Dummy" and he didn't resent it because it was too much of an effort for him to concentrate and gather the full import of the nickname.
6.—Finally his folks managed to get him into a minor college, which had very low entrance requirements. He passed these with the aid of stimulants. Once he tried out for the football squad but ran the wrong way with the ball, carrying it 87 yards over his own goal line after reversing his field.
7.—He also tried out for the baseball but tried to steal second with the bases full.

8.—After nine years in college he was finally gotten out through a writ of habeas corpus.
9.—He was voted the class nitwit and the student most likely to wind up in a drug store window demonstrating corn removers.
10.—But Jephtha fooled them. He made a name for himself and considerable money. He became you'll never guess it one of those fellows who draw charts for the financial pages and made detailed analysis of securities.
MORAL: You can never tell.

WEEKLY POEM OF LIFE
Apply yourself to every task,
Don't be afraid of work;
Be like the busy little bee
Which never's known to shirk.
Get up each morning with the sun
And labor with a will,
For industry has never yet
Been known to harm or kill.

Don't ever mark the fleeting hours;
The clock no watching bears.
The idle man is easy prey
To pitfalls and to snares.
Remember that by sweat of brow
Man can only succeed;
The thought a task has been well
Is great reward indeed.

Don't ask more money than you need;
Nor crave a rapid rise;
Leave selfish ambition aims
To avaricious guys.
Just strive to please, regardless of
The labor or the time;
And when you die the chances are
You'll never leave a dime!

5.—The moving picture house doorman told everybody quite candidly that there were no good seats left inside the theater and would not be for an hour and a half.

LEARN TO KNOW THE RIGHT WORD

By W. C. Nicholson
ENCLOSE OR INCLOSE—WHICH?
Here are two words. One begins with "I." The other begins with "e." They are inclose and enclose. Which is correct?
M. E. Proctor of Florence, S. C., is anxious to know about this, for he writes:
"Though I have not taken an active part in your feature 'The Right Word,' I find that each discussion is very helpful and interesting. Will you explain the proper uses of the words enclosed and inclose. Should enclosed be used at the beginning of a sentence and inclose in the middle?"
"Inclosed" is a variant of "enclosed." There is no rule as to where they should be used. Enclosed is probably heard and seen oftener than inclosed.
Yesterday's error: "Be sure and send a stamped, a self-addressed envelope."
Correct: Be sure to send, etc.
Apropos of the foregoing thought, have you sent "The Right Word" a request for the list of common errors, which may be sure for the asking?
"Student" of Newberry, S. C., writes: Is it correct to say, "They both look alike?" And what do you think of this: I heard a high school teacher say, "Is my chair in you all's way?"

Wrong: They both look alike. Right: They look alike. Right: Is my chair in your way?

Local Legion Post Proving Its Value To Ex-Service Men

The Edward Bitter post of the American Legion is rapidly gaining in membership as more and more ex-service men come to realize that by joining the Legion they are performing a definite service not only to themselves but also to their comrades and the community.
The attendance at the regular weekly meetings is proving that the ex-service man is awakening to the fact that only by organization can he obtain the benefits that this government want him to have.
There are still many veterans of the world war who are entitled to compensation or hospitalization but due to lack of knowledge on their part they have not availed themselves of the governments aid. Such men should without delay join the legion for it is the Legion that stands ever ready to fight the battles of all veterans.
The officers of the local post of the American Legion extend an invitation to all men who served in the American army during the late war to join the Legion.
In addition to the worthwhile work that the Legion is doing for ex-service men there is the pleasant side of the Legion. A pleasant home is maintained on the river front where Legionnaires and their friends may gather for a good time, dances are held quite frequently, drum and bugle corps is an added attraction and the friendships made through membership in the Legion are invaluable.

Legion Post Plans To Observe Nov. 11

Armistice Day plans are progressing and at the committee meeting a definite procedure was laid out. The plans so far include a dance to be held the evening of Nov. 10, together with a general "Who-

Legion Drum, Bugle Corps Forms a New Group of Musicians

The drum and bugle corps of the Legion is looking for men who would like to join with them. The local corps offers to any eligible Legion member the opportunity of instruction under nationally known drummers, free of all cost. Uniforms, instruments and all equipment is gratis. Within the ranks of the drum corps there has been organized a unit that is rapidly becoming famous, the "Sooner" band. This famous band was organized with the sole idea of doing nothing seriously—and they are upholding that idea to the letter.
And now, within the ranks of the "Sooner" band there has come to life a trio that for harmonizing cannot be equalled, though at times they ought to be "beat." This trio under the name of the "Pasooska Trio" has already earned for itself a name that no one else would want.
On their first public appearance a few nights ago they were requested to leave more than one place—that of course does not bother them for they are always glad to go.
An unique feature of this trio is that it has never yet been stuck in playing any tune requested. The patrons are always requested to name the tune they like best and the "Pasooskas" with out hesitation or shame strike up their band and play.
The parade and parade at midnight. On the morning of Nov. 11 the firing squad will fire a salute to those who have "Gone West" and following that the big parade will be held. All public schools, many fraternal orders and other veteran units will take part. The parade will disband at the Riverside park where the unveiling of a statue to the men who served in the Spanish American war will be the main attraction.

Helpful Hints

The Half Hour Nightgown on Grecian Lines

and then again from D to B.
Now take your material to a good hemstitcher and have it hemstitched all around the edge and also across the two places where you have pulled threads, and the place where you basted from A to B.
Now when you get the material back from the hemstitcher, iron the hemstitching under a damp cloth before you cut it at all, as you should always do with hemstitching before you cut it, so that the hemstitching doesn't pucker your material.
Then take both of the large pieces of your material, and sew the corner of each piece as indicated by A on figure 2, taking nice little tiny fine stitches. And then at B and C on figure 2, sew three inch long pieces of very narrow baby ribbon. And your nightgown is finished!
Now I can just hear you say that that's no nightgown, and it isn't either, until you put it on, which you do as indicated on figure 3. This is how you put on one half of it, and then you put on the other half right over this, so that the points that are sewn together are over each shoulder, and your little ribbons tie the gown together under each arm.
Now your two triangular pieces just have a little ribbon sewn on them as indicated by A on figure 4, and these sleeves are tied right to your shoulders when you wish your nightgown to be a negligee, as indicated by A on figure 3. Then as you see, they cover your arms or can hang loosely down your back in draped effect, whichever you prefer.
For a very beautiful effect, edge your sleeves entirely with two inch wide gold braid, and put a very good braid, because gold braid tarnishes so badly that there is no sense in using a cheap braid that will tarnish immediately. Then, if you use the gold braid, tack your sleeves together at the points C and C, and once more at B and B, as you can see on figure 3.
I would not advise you to have any braid on your nightgown which must be washable, but you can face a piece of braid with matching or contrasting satin ribbon, put a tiny weight at either end, and use it for a girdle which ties around your natural waistline and falls to the floor at the front. Thus you see how you wear this girdle with the nightgown only when you wear the sleeves.
The only other suggestion is that you might round off the skirt point when you are having this hemstitched, if you care to.
Au revoir!

"PEPPER" MARTIN GETS CARDS' ONLY TWO HITS AS THEY BOW TO A'S

FLYING LIFE SAVER—Five families owe their lives to Lewis Glavin, above, who, in the course of his air mail flying the past three years, discovered fires in their homes. He aroused them by flying low with motors open.

CARDS' HERO IN ACTION—The mighty swing which enabled Pepper Martin, phenomenal St. Louis outfielder, to get his team's only two hits in the fourth game of the World Series against the Athletics, is shown in this excellent action shot in the second inning of the game. The Cards lost, 3 to 0.

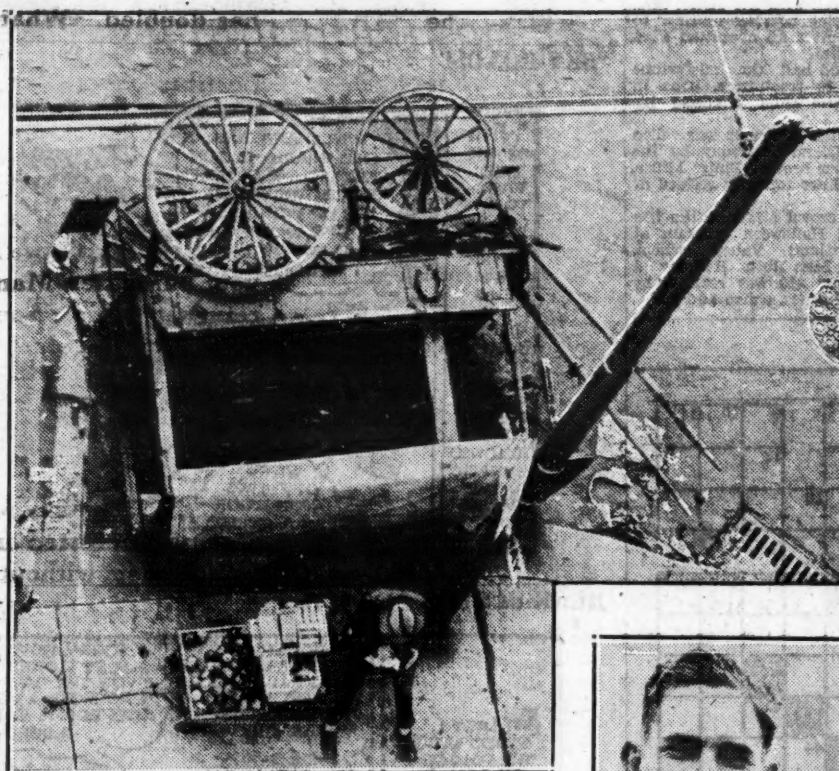

THE LITTLE BIG THREE OF THE WORLD SERIES are these mascots of the St. Louis and Philadelphia teams. Left to right are "Hutch" Yatkeman and Billie Webb, bat boys respectively of the Cards and A's, and Jimmy Wilson, son of the St. Louis catcher.

MORE FUN THAN WALKING DOWN A GANGPLANK is this basket carrier by means of which passengers arriving in the harbor at East London, Africa, are transferred to the tender which carries them ashore. Here are a group being taken on the unusual ride.

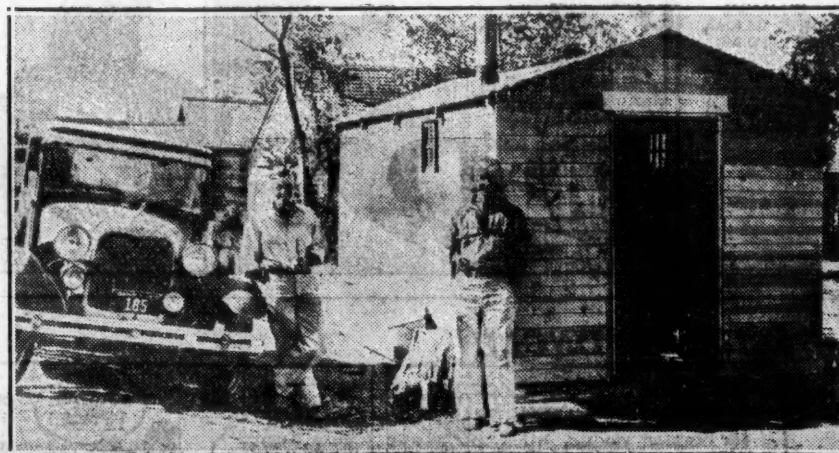

IT WAS A GREAT BREAK for Neil Miller, son of an Hawaiian planter, when Dorothy Mackall, movie star, decided to spend a vacation in Honolulu. That's where they met and where, it is said, they may settle down soon.

THE UPSET APPLE CART—An unusual victim of a hit-and-run driver in Philadelphia recently was this fruit wagon, which is shown here in a striking photo after it had been bowled over by an erratic motorist.

THIS IS NOT A CANAL SCENE IN VENICE, as you might think, but another recent view of flood conditions in Hankow, China, where a river overflow flooded streets to a depth of 17 feet in places and crippled all transportation. In the foreground are a group of natives, nearly neck deep in water, pushing a submerged automobile. In the background is the rare sight of Chinese navigating through the streets of their city in waterfront barges.

THEIR FATHER APPROVED OF THIS IDEA, WELL WAGER—To cut down living expenses at college, Clement, left, and Maurice Marsh, students at the University of Idaho, built their own house and carried it to college to live in. Here they are shown beside their $43 mansion.

THE KING AND QUEEN OF U. S. TENNIS—National tennis champions both, Ellsworth Vines and Helen Wills Moody are pictured here as they appeared at the Pacific Coast Championships at San Francisco, which Vines won. The champs, of course, are natives of California.

OREGON SPILLS NEW YORK TEAM

Western Eleven Wins 14 to 6 Victory Off Easterners

YANKEE STADIUM, N. Y. (INS) — A meteoric football team from Oregon Saturday dimmed the rising sun of New York university championship hopes by quashing the highly-touted eastern eleven to a score of 14 to 6.

The New York university eleven had been favored to win.

Oregon scored in the first period when Mark Temple shot four yards through the line for a touchdown. A forward pass from Temple to Gee for 25 yards sent it over again in the fourth period.

New York university got its lone score in the third quarter on a 10-yard pass to Bob McNamara from the 30 yard stripe.

LOCAL CHURCHES ADOPT SPECIAL MONTHLY PLANS

National Movement to Create Interests In Churches

All local churches are adopting the plans of the national movement to secure an unusually large church attendance during the month of November. As Armistice day falls near the second Sunday in the month, the various ministers of the city are planning special services for that day.

The Grace Lutheran church has extended an invitation to the world war veterans to attend Nov. 8 and appropriate services will be held with the Rev. Leland Leher presiding. All members of the American Legion and members of the Auxiliary, with members of the Edward Blitzer post are intended to attend in a body. All members of the church have been issued loyalty coupons that represent each of the two services held on Sunday and when the members come to the services they are to leave a coupon. This is to check up on each member and induce them to attend at least one service each Sunday.

Trinity Services Start

Today will inaugurate the first services of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, at the Walnut street Baptist church. Also, this morning, this church will start the month with communion rites and reception of new members. Food Facts.

BREAD is not only our best but our most economical food, an important consideration in these days of careful budgeting of expenditures for the table. It is no longer thought of only in the familiar white-loaf form, but in an almost endless variety of loaves, rolls, buns, biscuits, coffee breads, etc., and made of many different types of flour. By varying the choice of bread the diet can be given the sort of appetizing variety that children as well as adults find appealing.

Bread is an important source of carbohydrates — supplying energy to the body — and protein, material for growth and repair. Wheat protein, mostly gluten, ranks with the best proteins of vegetable origin. But bread made of milk, yeast, shortening and salt, is a highly varied food, supplying also fat, fibre, ash and vitamins.

A well rounded diet can be had with bread, butter and milk. Of the every-day foods, bread and butter are the most economical, the measure of energy-producing characteristics of food. A slice of bread and butter will supply 116 calories. About 3700 are needed daily by the average man. Bread and butter contain 1624 calories to the pound, as against 900 for a pound of roast lamb, 765 for boiled eggs and 616 for boiled rice.

Bread is one of the most readily digestible of the foods. This is partly due to the yeast, which raises the dough rendering the bread porous and open to the action of the digestive juices. Yeast also acts upon the gluten of the flour, conditioning it, making it soft and elastic and rendering it more easily digestible.

There are also certain by-products formed during the fermentation process which give to bread its characteristic pleasing flavor. Finally, yeast has a direct nutritive value in the loaf. It is rich in protein and one of the best known sources of vitamins. The more yeast that is used in making the bread, the shorter the period of time necessary for fermentation and the greater the food value.

Many years ago the baker and the housewife had to make their own yeast with potatoes, malt and hops. Today the yeast manufacturer has placed in their hands yeast in a convenient form, separable and ready to use without any preliminary labor.

Consumption of wheat in bread form is highly important to the farmer. An extra slice of bread a day for everyone in the United States would mean the consumption of an additional 60,000,000 bushels of wheat annually.

Falling 80 feet from a building being erected on the Hotel Cecil site in London, Frederick Calvert, a workman, landed unhurt on some ballet.
